

September 19, 2008

Dear Parents,

This week we read the book, When the Box is Full. This book is a review of the months of the year. I would like your child to bring in a box containing one item for each month that somehow represents that month. For example, mittens or a scarf could be placed in the box for the month of January. This should not be brought in until Tuesday or Wednesday of next week. You and your child will get a better idea of what to bring after you look through the book. I also ask you to please help your child pick these items as well as write the item brought for that month.

Thank you in advance for your cooperation with this project.

Mrs. Williams