

Dear Parents,

Are you ready for a busy week? It's going to be a hoot! I hope to see you Wednesday for the Parent Luncheon. You may pick up your guest at about 12:15 at my classroom.

On Thursday we will be going to the Museum school in Lancaster. Lunch is provided and gym uniform will be worn. I'm really looking forward to this trip. The "Teacher" for the day, Barbara Maley, does a fantastic job!

We will also be learning about "Elevator" subtraction which is just a fancy way of saying regrouping. I'll be happy to share this strategy with you on Wednesday.

We will be working on story maps to conclude our study of the unit for The Three Pigs as well.

Did you know:

Guen is now officially as old as everybody else? Happy 8th birthday, Guen!

Alex is doing a wonderful job with his reading and math? Keep up the hard work, Alex!

Mrs. Lardner will be helping me three times a week with math? I'm really looking forward to having her with us.

How pleased I am with third grade's eagerness to learn? That really makes my job fun!

Have a wonderful weekend.

Ms. Buchheit
